Welcome

Welcome and congratulations on becoming a member of the unique and wonderful world of Girl Scouts! Girl Scouts is the world’s preeminent organization dedicated solely to girls – all girls – where, in an accepting and nurturing environment girls build character and skills for success in the real world. In partnership with committed adults, such as you, girls develop qualities that will serve them all their lives. These qualities include leadership, strong values, social conscience, and conviction about their own worth.

The Girl Scout program is girl-driven reflecting the ever-changing needs and interests of today’s girls. In Girl Scouts, girls discover the fun, friendship, and the power of girls together. As a Girl Scout volunteer, you will help girls develop their full potential; relate to others with increasing understanding, skill, and respect; develop values to guide their actions and provide the foundation for sound decision-making; and contribute to the improvement of society through their abilities, leadership skills, and cooperation with others.

The Girl Scout Brownie Handbook is designed to help you through the world of Girl Scout Brownies and is your personal resource to use as you work with your troop/group.

Although, this handbook is full of good information, it is not your only resource. To help ensure a successful experience with girls, check out the other resources throughout the guide.

Your Role as a Troop Leader

As a Brownie troop leader, you’ll be the role model that they’ll always remember. You’ll be their cheerleader, their mentor, their guide. You will watch them grow more confident, you’ll witness their transformation from little girls to leaders in their world. And, you will find that you’ve grown just as much.

Leading Brownies means your role will be hands on and full of laughs. The girls are young and will need your help to plan meetings, figure out what programs they want to do, and plan trips. Working with girls can bring many joys, including developing a personal relationship with each girl in your troop, building new adult friendships through the sisterhood of Girl Scouts, receiving appreciation and thanks from parents and, most importantly, knowing that you are shaping the future by working with a girl today.

Leadership

Leadership is Building Relationships

Leadership comes through the relationship you will build with each girl. Leadership comes through communicating with parents and co-leaders. Leadership is understanding the needs and interests of the girls, and helping the girls design their own program opportunities based on those needs and interests.

Leadership is Knowing
Leadership is knowing that you cannot, and should not, know everything that the girls might want to learn. Leadership is knowing that you can explore and learn many things along with girls. Leadership is knowing where to go to find resources. Leadership is knowing that it is okay not to know and to seek assistance.

Leadership is Teaching
Leadership is teaching the girls that they can do and be anything – that they are decision makers. Leadership is teaching girls not only for the sake of knowing things, but for the sake of the development and growth of the girls. Leadership is teaching through being a good role model.

Leadership is Coaching
Your role is not to perform for the girls, or to be a teacher. Leadership is guiding and instructing. Leadership is advising and discussing. Leadership is working so that each girl can carry out responsibilities within the troop. Leadership is building the girls up and giving more and more responsibilities to the girls as they grow and develop.

Leadership is Belonging
Leadership is recognizing that you are a part of a troop/group and a team. Leadership is listening, providing suggestions, and contributing ideas. Leadership is sticking with the girls through good times and bad. Leadership is recognizing that you belong to a larger organization beyond the troop/group that will provide support and resources.

Volunteer Responsibilities
Additional responsibilities as a Girl Scout volunteer include:

- Accepting the Girl Scout Promise and Law
- Understanding the Three Keys to Leadership that are the basis of the Girl Scout Leadership Experience: Discover, Connect, and Take Action
- Sharing your knowledge, experience, and skills with a positive and flexible approach
- Working in a partnership with girls so that their activities are girl-led, allow them to learn by doing, and allow for cooperative (group) learning; you'll also partner with other volunteers and council staff for support and guidance
- Organizing fun, interactive, girl-led activities that address relevant issues and match girls' interests and needs
- Providing guidance and information regarding Girl Scout group meetings with girls’ parents or guardians on a regular and ongoing basis through a variety of tools, including email, phone calls, newsletters, blogs, other forms of social media, and any other method you choose

- Processing and completing registration forms and other paperwork, such as permission slips
- Communicating effectively and delivering clear, organized, and vibrant presentations or information to an individual or the group
- Overseeing with honesty, integrity, and careful record-keeping the funds that girls raise
- Maintaining a close connection to your volunteer support team
- Facilitating a safe experience for every girl

Working with Brownies

There are so many things to do in Girl Scouting that are made just for Brownies! From earning badges to going on their first camp-out, Girl Scout Brownies have a great opportunity to make new friends and try new things.

The Girl Scout Leadership Experience

The Girl Scout Leadership Experience is what makes Girl Scouts unique compared to any other youth serving organization. There are three program processes. These program processes are the key to achieving the outcomes and the Girl Scout Promise and Law. The three program processes are:

- Girl-Led – By the Girls, For the Girls
- Learning by Doing – Experiential Learning
- Cooperative Learning

Girl-Led

Girls need to know that they can do anything – that being female does not limit their ability to achieve their dreams. Girl Scout Brownies need to learn that they can lead, make decisions, and be helpful. The girls are the doers, the planners, and the implementers of their activities. Give girls choices and help them learn good communication and decision-making skills. One way to enable the girls to develop those skills is by introducing them to Girl Scout Brownie Elf and friends! The Brownie Elf shows the girls how they can be helpful in many ways. This will help the girls learn leadership, financial literacy, and so much more!

Girl/adult planning is the way to involve girls in making decisions. As a Girl Scout Brownie Troop Leader, your role in the planning process is important, and helps girls succeed. As the girls grow from Girl Scout Brownies through their Girl Scout experience, your role in planning and implementing will change. As the girls grow older, they will have more responsibility for the troop.

Learn by Doing
This happens when a person engages in an activity, looks back on the activity critically, identifies useful insight from the evaluation and puts the results to work through a change of behavior in the future. As a Girl Scout Brownie troop leader, you will take time to ask girls questions about their experiences. Evaluating through open-ended questions helps the girls make meaning from their experience. Take time to ask questions in the beginning, middle, and end of an experience. You will be amazed at what you will learn, what the girls will learn, and how they will apply this learning in their Girl Scout troop and to their life outside of Girl Scouting.

Cooperative Learning
Cooperative learning is setting up the troop/group meeting so that girls work in small groups or teams to accomplish an activity. It is important to implement cooperative learning with seven-and eight-year olds.

Understanding Brownies
Understanding the developmental characteristics of Girl Scout Brownies will help you in your role as their leader. You will be able to appreciate why girls do what they do. The chart below can give you guidance in the development of girls ages 6-8. Keep in mind that these are broad, general characteristics. Each girl will grow at her own pace.

Working with and mentoring younger girls
Girl Scout Brownies work with their Girl Scout sisters to discover more about themselves, connect with other Brownie Girl Scouts, family, and community members and take action to make the world a better place. Brownies sing songs, do crafts, play games and explore new places and ideas throughout their meetings. Friendship, fun, and activities start at the Girl Scout Brownie meeting and move out to the community when they participate in camp, events, and community service.

Brownie girls might like to:
- Visit a zoo to feed – and learn how a veterinarian cared for – baby animals
- March in a community parade
- Work on Girl Scout Brownie Journey Awards and Badges
- Plan an overnight trip to celebrate their birthdays
- Decide how many cookies to sell to earn money for trips
- Go camping and making s’mores over a campfire
Behavior Management

How do you effectively manage the behavior of the girls in your troop? Prevention is the key. By putting the proper procedures in action, you will prevent behavior problems. The following is a list of things to consider when working with Girl Scout Brownies.

- Be Prepared – Prepare in advance and talk with co-volunteers and helpers about the meeting’s agenda ahead of time. If you are prepared and keep the meeting moving along, the girls will not have time to find other activities that may cause problems.
- Get There Early – Have everything ready before the girls arrive. This allows you to greet girls as they arrive and make them feel welcome.
- Provide Positive Praise – Focus on what the girls are doing right instead of what they are doing wrong. Praise must be specific and sincere.
- Establish Ground Rules – To help meetings run smoothly, have girls establish ground rules for behavior and expectations. It is important for girls to have ownership of the ground rules, and to hold one another accountable if the rules are broken. You will need to guide the girls’ discussion with examples of behaviors and ground rules. You will need to be concrete with them.
- Establish an Order for Your Meetings – By establishing an order, you are creating a routine, and you will see cooperation and initiative from the girls. After several meetings, the girls will understand the expectations and know what comes next.
- Use Five and One Minute Warnings – Brownies need to know when an activity is ending and another is about to begin. This helps them to learn to plan and not feel rushed.
- Provide a Snack – Snack time allows the girls to share, relax, and gives them responsibility. Snack time should be simple and planned appropriately based on when your troop meets. For example, if it is close to dinnertime, you may serve juice instead of cookies and juice.

Problem Solving

Occasionally, you may need to intervene when behavior becomes destructive, hurtful, or it hinders the progress of the rest of the group. Whether the behavior is an isolated incident or an ongoing problem, respond quickly and appropriately, so that the group’s routine is maintained.
Evaluation Questions to ask Girl Scout Brownies

Asking Brownies questions can be a challenge. Remember, they need things to be concrete. Give examples and listen to what the girls are saying. Build your questions based on what the girls are saying about their experience.

Sentence Starter
Have the girls sit in a circle, either as a large group or, if you have enough adults, break the girls into smaller groups. Create some sentence starters and have the girls “fill in the blank” For example, “The best part about the field trip was...”, “The funniest thing about our activity was...” or “The part I liked best was...”

Draw a Picture
Give each girl a piece of paper and crayons or markers and ask her to draw a picture of what was the best part of the activity for her. Once complete, have the girls share what their pictures show.

Rate It!
Have the girls use facial expressions or different signals to rate how they feel about an activity or idea. Smile or Frown. Thumbs up or Thumbs down. Clap once or clap twice. Stand up or sit down.

Parental Engagement

One of your greatest resources as a troop leader will be the girls’ parents. Beyond keeping them informed about what is happening with the troop, you will want/need their assistance—like providing snacks for meetings, helping with cookie booth sales or having enough adults on trips to meet the girl-adult ratios. Parent involvement will not only enrich the girls’ experience, it will help you fulfill your role as a leader by allowing you to focus on your work with the girls. The suggestions below will give you a good start on how to involve parents in your troop.

Plan a Parent Meeting
Before you have your first meeting with the girls, invite the parents to a meeting. This allows them to meet you and your co-leaders, meet the other girls and begin a relationship with other parents. Have the parents meet in one room and the girls in another. The girls can work on an activity or project during this time. If two meeting spaces are not available, meet without the girls or plan the meeting to address both the girls and adults.
Parent meetings allow you to begin building a relationship with your greatest resource. You should ensure everyone has a time to meet each other and to learn about Girl Scouts as an organization, about you and your role, and about what role they will be expected to play. Below is a sample agenda to help you plan a parent meeting.

Welcome and Introductions
- Personally welcome all parents and guardians.
- Be sure everyone has a nametag.
- Have an activity where the parents and guardians introduce themselves and learn something about each other.
- Introduce your co-leader(s) and any other adults working with the troop.

Provide Information
Explain the Girl Scout Mission, Promise and Law
In your own words, share the benefits of being a Girl Scout
Discuss the importance of girl/adult partnerships, teaching group decision making and how you will implement that with the Girl Scout Brownies.

Explain the role of the Troop Leader and Assistant Leader(s)
Describe the trainings you have taken that have prepared you to be a Girl Scout Leader
Briefly explain your responsibility as a troop leader.
Tell them about the support you will receive from the service unit and the council.

Share Your Expectation for the Parents’ Roles and Responsibilities
Give specific examples of how parents can help support the troop.
Let the parents know how they can help you be a successful leader.
Be upfront and clear with parents about dues and provide them with a breakdown of costs, based on the plans you have.
Explain the benefits of being involved with their daughter’s Girl Scout troop.
Invite family members to register with the troop. Please note: any parents attending a Girl Scout activity are highly recommended to register as Girl Scout members so that they are covered by Girl Scout insurance.
Ask parents to fill out an interest survey to find out what they are passionate about so you can consider ways to plug them into troop activities.

Communicating with Parents
Establish a method of communication. Will the girls receive fliers to take home that talk about Girl Scout activities? Will the parents receive phone calls or emails? Does the troop have a newsletter? Be sure to establish a method of communication with parents and use it continually throughout the year. You can use various methods of communication to do this: phone calls, troop newsletters, email, texts, Facebook group page, etc.
When it comes to meeting times and locations, make sure that you are notifying the parents as well as the girls. Girls can also help draft a message or email with the details that parents will need to know about an upcoming trip or project.

Greet the parents. As parents drop off or pick up their daughters from the meeting, be sure a leader or co-leader is assigned to greet them and communicate with them about the meeting and any upcoming activities. This also allows the parents to speak with you or your co-leader about their daughter. Also, be sure to relay any important information as parents pick up their daughters.

Keep in touch with parents. It may not be realistic to contact all your parents on a weekly basis however, make a point to connect with the parents. Tell them how their daughter is progressing. If you are proud of a girl's accomplishment, tell her parents. Communicate successes and concerns. A simple conversation can go a long way.

Have parents sign up to help. A great time to solicit assistance is at your parent meeting. Parents and extended family of the girls are your best resource. Ask if you need an extra set of hands at meetings, drivers for field trips or help with a project. Be sure you ask them directly. If you are vague or nondescript about what needs to happen, they will not volunteer. Remember every driver must be an approved adult volunteer and have a good driving record, a valid license, and a registered/insured vehicle.

Recognize parents. Send a note to thank parents for their help, mention their assistance in your troop’s newsletter, and share with them how you have seen their daughter change and grow.

Getting Started

Troop Government

Troop government or structure is usually most effective when chosen by the girls. This may be formal or very informal. Let the girls decide how structured they want this to be. If they start with NO kind of group government, they may eventually see the need for some kind of structure before long! This is part of their learning experience.

There are several types of troop government, and some may be more appropriate depending on the size of your troop.

Types of Troop Government

Girl Responsibilities

Girl/Adult Planning and Partnership

In Girl Scouting, girls and adults work together to accomplish troop goals. Girl/adult planning or partnership is unique, because the girls help decide what activities they will do, help lead activities, their opinions are heard when making plans for the activities, and evaluating the activities.

Role of Girls in Partnership

- Assist you and other volunteers in safety planning
- Listen to and follow your instructions and suggestions
- Learn and practice safety skills
- Learn to “think safety” at all times and to be prepared
- Identify and evaluate an unsafe situation
- Know how, when and where to get help when needed

Role of Adults in Partnership

- Be fair and consistent
- Be a positive role model
- Include all girls equally
- Build leadership skills
- Protect girls’ privacy (don’t discuss a girl with others – including your daughter or other adults)
- Consider each girl’s needs and abilities
- Keep girls safe
- Communicate with girls and families

How do you know Girl/Adult partnership is working?

- Girls are enthusiastic about their meetings, attendance is high, and girls are eager to be involved in different activities.
• As the Girl Scout year progresses, the advisor is spending less time planning and setting up activities and more time facilitating the flow of activities and problem solving.
• Girls are familiar with the range of Girl Scout program resources available for their grade level and choose activities from more than one source.
• Girls work on activities in a variety of ways. They work individually, in pairs, in small groups as a whole group, or with other troops/groups, depending upon the activity and their own needs and interests.
• As the Girl Scout year progresses, girls are able to make decisions more smoothly and effectively. As they continue to practice active decision-making, they complete a larger number of activities or choose more sophisticated and complex ones to do.
• Girls show more respect for each other. Individual strengths and talents are more visible when girls are active, and girls learn to value these in one another.
• Girls show pride in being members of Girl Scouting. They tell girls outside of Girl Scouting about their experiences, and are eager to share their accomplishments with friends and family members.

Components of a Meeting

Creating a Quality Experience
Girl Scouting’s promise to girls is stated in the mission: Girl Scouting builds girls of courage, confidence, and character, who make the world a better place. Girls engage in activities that help them Discover themselves and their values, Connect with others, and Take Action to make the world a better place.

A quality Girl Scout Leadership Experience includes going on a Leadership Journey, earning badges, taking field trips, selling Cookies and Fall Products, and enjoying Girl Scout traditions.

Girl Scout Meeting Tips
First-time Girl Scouts
If girls are meeting each other for the first time, advisors may need to plan and structure the first and possibly the second gathering. Most often, the first gathering will be focused on activities that are FUN to the girls and include team-building and getting to know one another activities.

Girl Scouts who have already been in a troop
If the girls have been a troop/group before, the girls may have more of a leadership role in what type of meetings will work for the girls, troop leader, and parents.
Whether first-time or long-time Girl Scouts, Brownies may not be able to decide themselves on activities or meeting structure. Adults should practice cooperative learning and learning by doing in helping the girls decide how they want their year to go.

Tips for Running Meetings
- Go with the flow
- Communicate
- Be aware
- Be proactive

Supplemental Meeting Activities
Meeting Components and Sample Meeting

Please visit the Volunteer Tool Kit to Plan your Girl Scout year!

Sample Meeting Structure
The following is a structure that the girls may use to create their gatherings:
- Starting Point (5-10 minutes) – Meetings should begin with reciting the Girl Scout Promise and Law. Prior to this, they can work on a quiet activity set up for them (puzzles, drawing, work games, or just let them visit with each other.) while waiting for the meeting to officially start.
- Snack (5-10 minutes) – The time of the snack may vary depending on when the troop meets. Girls should be assigned jobs related to snack such as passing out, cleaning up, etc.
- Business/Discussion (5-10 minutes) – Take care of the troop business now. With the assistance of an adult, one of the girls take attendance. Collect any forms such as permission slips or other items that the girls may be bringing back. Welcome new girls, brainstorm ideas, make plans, and vote on decisions. Discuss the activity planned for the meeting; why you are doing it, what you want the girls to learn from it, and how it will be done.
- Activity (25-30 minutes)– This is the main part of the meeting for the girls. Try to plan activities that can be completed in one meeting. If a project cannot be completed in one meeting, divide it into two or three shorter steps that can be completed at individual meetings. This will give girls a sense of completion and accomplishment after each meeting.
- Cleanup (5-10 minutes) – Everyone should pitch in or use a kaper chart if your group is large enough. Think of ways to make clean-up time fun (play some familiar music and try to clean-up before the music ends).
- Closing/Reflection (5 minutes)– A time to wind down and wrap up the meeting. You need to have some way to wrap up and review, and to indicate the meeting is over and it is time to leave.

Kaper Charts
A kaper chart is a girl-planning tool that can help the leader teach responsibility and leadership skills. Troops often use a kaper chart to divide the different duties and tasks of a troop meeting amongst the girls. The girls, with guidance from the leader, can decide what specific jobs need to be done each meeting.

The Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting
Girls at every grade level have a Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting, which correlate with the Leadership Journeys. Through fun activities, girls can earn a variety of badges to build the skills and gain the confidence they will use to change the world. They can even develop and complete activities to make their own badge – a great way to explore a topic of personal interest. (In addition, girls who make their own badge will learn how to learn, an important skill to have in school, on the job, and in life!)

The Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting is designed to complement the Leadership Journeys at each grade level. This means that each Skill-Building Badge Set (there are currently three and each is sold separately from The Girl’s Guide to Girl Scouting) is tied to one of the three Journeys. You will find that doing a Journey and the related badge set at the same time will make it easy to offer the entire National Program Portfolio—Journeys and badges—in a seamless way.

The Handbook section consists of the Girl Scout Promise and Law, Journey Map, Girl Scout history and traditions, Girls of the World, Girl Scout Special Days, insignia and awards, and bridging requirements.

Under the Badges section you will discover the Awards Log, which lists all of the awards that can be earned by a Girl Scout along with the requirement booklets for the Legacy Badges.

My Girl Scouts section contains a journal, community service log and a place where the girls can write a letter to themselves to be read in the future.

The Girls Guide to Girl Scouting can be bought from the Girl Scout office or online.
Ceremonies
Ceremonies play a very important role in Girl Scouting. They not only mark the progression of the Girl Scout year, but of the girls’ individual journeys through Girl Scouting. There are many opportunities to conduct ceremonies. A ceremony may welcome new girls into Girl Scouting (an investiture), observe a special Girl Scout day (a World Thinking Day ceremony), recognize accomplishments (a Court of Awards), or may open or close a meeting (flag ceremony).

Travel
To ensure that any travel you do with the girls infuses the Girl Scout Leadership Experience at every opportunity, limit your role to facilitating the girls’ brainstorming and planning – but never doing the work for them. Allow the girls to lead, learn collaboratively, and learn by doing (and by making mistakes). All the while, however, provide ideas and insight, ask tough questions when you must, and support all their decisions with enthusiasm and encouragement!
