The New York Times Magazine says, “Instagram is coming for your sock drawer!” The Home Edit has made national headlines in all directions. As Girl Scout entrepreneurs, Clea Shearer and Joanna Teplin are joining us in Little Rock for the BIG Brunch to help us celebrate the power of girls.

When the two met in the summer of 2015, Clea and Joanna each had their own successful careers centered around helping others with their personal organization. They instantly saw the great potential in their combined efforts and launched The Home Edit the very same day their paths first crossed. Since then, they have organized the homes of Khloe Kardashian, Mandy Moore, and Gwyneth Paltrow; filmed their own Netflix series “Get Organized with The Home Edit” alongside Reese Witherspoon’s network Hello Sunshine; and released two New York Time Best Sellers, “The Home Edit: A Guide to Organizing and Realizing Your House Goals” and “The Home Edit Life: The No-Guilt Guide to Owning What You Want and Organizing Everything.”

Girl Scouts recognizes the power that comes from supporting and uplifting girls. We set girls on a lifelong path to lead with courage, confidence and character by combining girls’ potential with robust skill-building programming, caring adult mentors and strong female role models. Every girl deserves someone who believes in her. Come to The BIG Brunch and show your support for all girls.
